

LINER NOTES

Joachim Kühn

Ibiza 10.04.18

When Ramon Lopez visited Ibiza I arranged a playing session at my studio with Gerard Guse. The first recording as a duo was amazing.

After listening I suggested Gina Schwarz to overdub, to see, how it will sound.

The surprise came immediately, she could add something to make the music complete. This is very difficult to do and she did great. A new Trio was born.

All 3 musicians went to the studio Casamurada, near Barcelona, to record their first album, but this time together.

Great music came out, open improvisations, personal compositions, grooves to take off.

Not like any other guitar trio, this trio has his own sound and music. Highly individual musicians who have something important to say - only by the music. It is called "Trillium".
